New president selected

Borgen named to position

Borgen. With his excellent background, he is an ideal choice to carry out the programs the Board wants done, including employee relations, community relations, local economic development, working with the state legislature, and being able to relate to the students on all our campuses."

Borgen was one of five selected by a Presidential Search Committee, who spent countless hours since April sorting through numerous candidates. The Board of Directors interviewed the final candidates from throughout the United States before arriving at the selection of Borgen.

In addition to his professional activities, Borgen has also been active in civic and community organizations, including the United Way, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce and others.

Dr. Joseph A. Borgen assumed his duties as President of the Des Moines Area Community College on Sept. 1. He was named to the position in August by the DMACC Board of Directors.

Borgen, who previously served as President of Danville Community College, Danville, Illinois, has a broad background in community college work. He returns to DMACC, where he was the Vice President for Instruction from 1974 through 1979. Prior to that, Borgen was involved in technical and vocational administration at Joliet Junior College and Schoolcraft College.

BRIDGE OVER TROUBLED WATER

By Paul Simon

When you're weary, feeling small,
When tears are in your eyes,
I will dry them all;
I'm on your side.
When times get rough
And friends just can't be found,
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will lay me down...

When you're down and out,
When you're on the street,
When evening falls so hard
I will comfort you.
I'll take your part.
When darkness comes
And pain is all around,
Like a bridge over troubled water
I will lay me down.

More information on student aid

The Office of Postsecondary Education in the Department of Education recently released the notice of family contribution schedule for the Guaranteed Student Loan program (GSL) for use from Oct. 1, 1981 to June 30, 1982. This will determine whether a student is eligible for a GSL. If the adjusted gross income of the student's family is greater than $30,000. This new procedure goes into effect Oct. 1 unless either chamber of the Congress rejects the proposed schedule.

This is unlikely, however, because the GSL branch of the Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) convened a need-analysis task force, composed of interested parties from all sectors of the higher education sphere — including students — to develop recommendations to OSFA on procedures to be followed in 1981-1982 and 1982-1983 academic years. The recommendations resulting from that meeting generally reflect the following principles:

--1). For AY 81-82, it was important that the needs test create the least disruption to the existing system and could be easily understood.

--2). That the needs test would establish reasonable contribution levels while still trying to control spiraling costs.

--3). That the needs test should attempt to include the recommendations made by the Congressional conferees in their report language.

Junior Miss to be held at the Boone campus

Talent, poise and smiles will abound when the Boone Campus is again the site for the 1982 Boone County Junior Miss Pageant on Oct. 10.

The pageant is a scholarship program sponsored by the Boone Soroptimist Club, and is the first step in the nationwide Junior Miss activities which make up the 25th anniversary of America's Junior Miss national finals.

The 1982 Boone County competition will find 18 high school seniors vying for the title currently held by Dody Olson of rural Boone.

Preliminary awards will be presented in the area of talent, poise and appearance, physical fitness, scholastic achievement and friendly spirit.

Eighteen high school seniors from throughout Boone County have entered the pageant. Talent competitions will include vocal interpretations, dancing presentations, instrumental selections and a variety of dramatic skits.

Honored guests at the pageant will be Shari Magnani Jagerson, 1978 Junior Miss; Kathy King Ericson, 1979 Junior Miss; Shelly Kirk, 1980 Junior Miss; and Dody Olson, 1981 Junior Miss. Additional entertainment will be provided by Cindy Russell, 1981 Junior Miss first runner-up and talent award winner; and Marcia Matt, 1980 Junior Miss first runner-up and talent award winner.

The pageant will begin at 7:30 in the DMACC auditorium on Oct. 10 and tickets may be purchased from any Soroptimist member. NOTE: At the Boone Campus, students should contact office secretary Sandi Johnson or Bear Facts Editor Marcia Matt for more information concerning ticket sales.

Steak fry coming up at DMACC

The Boone Rotary Club will soon be sponsoring it's annual steak fry dinner to support a scholarship fund.

The steak fry will be held on Oct. 12 with at least half of the proceeds being used for scholarships for Boone Campus, DMACC students. The other half of the money will be used for scholarships for students attending other colleges and universities.

Tickets for the event may be purchased from any Rotary Club member.

The Editor's Desk

Well, it is time once again to begin a season of "Bear Facts" at the Boone Campus. The summer break didn't seem to last very long, but then again it never does.

This issue is simply a "Welcome Back" edition of the Bear Facts. Our regular run of issues will begin next month. I would like to take this opportunity to explain a little about this paper.

The DMACC student publication strives to include information appealing to all of the students at the Boone Campus. It therefore encourages students to submit materials and ideas to the editor.

As a rule, we include information concerning the various campus activities, as well as the many athletic events. We are, however, short-staffed and naturally cannot report on everything that happens regarding the Boone Campus. Therefore, we request the help of the faculty and students in informing us of the various events in advance of the event itself.

As an added feature, we will again begin our "Bertha Bear" column to aid in solving the "problems" of campus students. This feature resembles the "Dear Abby" column found in many newspapers. The expertise of a Boone campus sophomore will be employed to supply advice to students.

We would also like to start a classified ad section in the paper. Notices of transportation need or availability, merchandise for sale and personal announcements will be included.

If you have any information which could be used as a classified ad, or wish to submit a letter to "Bertha Bear" please turn it in at the office and indicate that it is for the Bear Facts editor.

Other ideas to aid in the appeal of the campus publication would also be appreciated.

Welcome back to Boone Campus. I hope this publication becomes a part of your "campus experience."

IT WAS FEEDING TIME for the entire Boone Campus student body on the first day of fall classes, and the meal was catered by the Boone Area Chamber of Commerce. Free hotdogs and hamburgers topped the menu which also featured chips and pop. The Sept. 14 luncheon was held at the mini-park in the Boone business district. Photo courtesy of the Boone News-Republican.

Opening day "hectic" on campus

by MARCIA MATT
Bear Facts Editor

For the sophomores, it was just the beginning of another quarter, but to incoming freshmen opening day at Boone Campus may have seemed like opening day at the zoo!

Fall quarter (and many headaches) officially began at the Boone Campus with 8 a.m. classes on Sept. 14. By 9 a.m. the lines streaming from the offices were beginning, and by 10 a.m. those same offices were running low on drop-add slips.

Many students could be heard commenting either on the lack or the over-abundance of classes listed on their schedules. Freshmen students could also be heard commenting on the "gracious" ten-minute breaks between classes and the freedom to smoke within many parts of the building.

Those students arriving from small high schools were awed by the so-called "large" number of students on the campus, while those arriving from larger institutions, described Boone Campus as being "very small."

Through this opening day madness, morning classes somehow ran smoothly, and at noon many students were "treated" to their first cancelled class. This was due to the free hamburger and hotdog lunch sponsored by the Boone Area Chamber of Commerce.

The Boone mini-park was the sight for the annual campus feed which found many Boone businessmen serving lunch to over 100 hungry Boone Campus students.

At 1:10 p.m. it was back to classes, and students neared the conclusion of "day one." And later, as the sun sank low behind the corn fields, Boone Campus stood alone awaiting the second day....

NOTE: With the start of another quarter, campus students should become aware of the many activities offered at Boone. Elections of Student Senate positions are currently underway as are rehearsals for the fall drama production of "The Silver Whistle". Students can also become involved in cheerleading or drill team by contacting Mrs. Silberhorn, and the business department would be interested to meet a student interested in PBL. Contact Rosemary Westphalen or Marcia Matt if interested in student publications and check in the office to gather information concerning other DMACC activities.

Students may apply for liaison position

Qualified applicants are now being sought for the position of Student Liaison Officer in Washington D.C..

The history of this position dates back to the spring of 1977, when representative student leaders from state and national student organizations met with the then Commissioner of Education to express the need for a position in the Department of Education to "link" the policy-makers with the state and national student groups. What resulted from that meeting was the establishment of the first Student Liaison Officer position in the fall of 1977.

Because of the importance of insuring that the position reflects current student opinion, the person selected for the position serves a six-month term in Washington, D.C. and must be a registered student at an accredited post-secondary institution. In addition, applications go through an extensive selection process involving both state student associations and national student groups.

The basic reality of the Student Liaison Officer position is that of one person with limited resources. The responsibilities of the SLO are ever-changing. However, among other duties, the SLO:

--provides information about the Department of Education programs, policies, and decisions to students on the state and national level;

--supplies input to ED about the activities and needs of students; initiates meetings between students and appropriate Department personnel on specific issues of concern;

--maintains close contact with state student associations and functions as an internal advocate for students within ED.

Applications for the position should include a resume detailing a student's knowledge of the Student Financial Aid system on the campus, state and federal levels; knowledge of the U.S. Department of Education current and proposed structures; knowledge of the existing and proposed federal laws and regulations that impact on postsecondary students; knowledge of and extensive working relationships with state, national and other student associations; personal abilities including a high level of self-motivation and perseverance with well-developed communication skills.

Applications for the position of Student Liaison Officer should be mailed to: SLO Selection Committee; ATTN: Carolyn Henrich; c-o Office of the Deputy Under Secretary-IIA; Room 4027, FOB No. 6; 400 Maryland Avenue, SW; Washington, D.C., 20202.

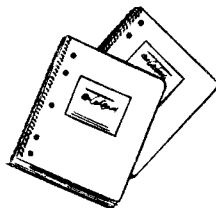

Applications must be postmarked by Oct. 15, 1981.
