exactly what she wanted for Christmas and the jolly man was "amused" by many of her requests. Santa Claus and his wife made an appearance at the annual party and took notes on the actions of the Boone Campus "boys and girls" to make certain they deserved 1981 Christmas gifts. Did everyone's wishes come true?

Drill team swings at Boone games

Some of the "swingiest" females on the Boone campus compose the 1982 Drill Team squad. These women were organized in the fall of 1981 to perform at various sporting events. They present routines to popular music selections. Members of the drill team are:

Tammy Rogers — Tammy is a 1980 graduate of Boone High School where she was a member of the journalism staff and pep club, earned four letters in track events, and was a state finalist in the 1979 Miss United Teenager pageant. At the Boone Campus, Tammy is a student representative on the Student Senate and elementary education major with an emphasis on remedial reading. She plans to continue her education at the University of Northern Iowa.

Linda Essert — Linda graduated from Boone High School in 1981 and was active in basketball, softball, drama, art club and swimming. At the Boone Campus she has participated in both drill team and drama. Linda is a Liberal Arts major.

Tami Padgett — Tami is also a 1981 Boone High School graduate and enjoys bowling, tennis and skiing. She plans to continue her education in the area of nursing or pre-medicine technology.

Maria Johnson — Maria is a 1980 graduate of Ogden High School where she enjoyed cheerleading, speech, French club, majorette work, vocal and instrumental music and "O" club. Maria is also interested in track and golf. She is enrolled in the nursing program at the Boone Campus.

Corinne Peterson — Corinne is a sophomore at the Boone Campus and plans to continue her education in Business Administration at the University of Northern Iowa. Along with the Drill Team, Corinne is also the treasurer for PBL.

Editor's Desk

Hopefully, everyone has now recovered from the many celebrations held to "ring in 1982", if not... I offer my sympathies.

Back on campus, things are back to normal after a hectic holiday season. The cold weather has been hurting class size for the past two weeks, but in Iowa what can one expect of the season.

Now that winter has really settled in for awhile, many students may be wondering just what there is to do in Boone in the cold months.

Well, as a life-long resident of the community, I can honestly tell you that there is actually very little to do in Boone during the winter.

If you hail from Boone, you may be able to find more activities than an out-of-towner, however. Many locals enjoy snowmobiling, cross-country skiing, winter horseback riding, as well as the many winter events of the Boone High School students.

If you aren't able to participate in these activities, you have to create others from what there is in Boone. You can always go to the theater for a very moderate price, or enjoy an afternoon of ice skating or sledding in McHose Park. Many groups of DMACC students also spend the winter months together enjoying a Bear or Lady Bear basketball game, a party, or (heaven forbid) an evening of studying. Any other suggestions?

Hopefully, the winter months will quickly pass and there will be more activities for students to enjoy. Have a terrific January and get fired up for the annual Homecoming celebration!

Connecting past and the present

With the start of a new year, The Bear Facts is beginning a new feature. An "Alumni Column" will be found in each issue of this publication. It will deal with the history of the Boone Campus and will be written by alumnus Dorothea Fitzgerald. Comments concerning this feature would be welcomed by the editor and staff.

By DOROTHEA FITZGERALD

The current students of this institution for I.H.E.A.L.M.S. may think that you are different from the Alumni? But, the IHEALMS bit was originated to set-off the comments of the Junior College group in the old high school paper. It was thought out by a fellow who now closely resembles Santa Claus in appearance. (He was then responsible for the junior college news.)

Like today, there were also car pools in the past. No, the cars in 1932 did not belong to the students, but to the fathers of the students instead. A Madrid postman sent up his two sons and there were three others who were also passengers. The latter three mentioned still keep Christmas together.

How did the others get to campus? Like the postmen, neither cold... (In other words, they walked.) The walking was in addition to the physical education provided in the gymnasium at the school. Now, that is different, I will admit, from the present transportation and parking problems.

Incidentally, that car from Madrid had running boards which provided extra space. Leaving one party, the guests discovered that fourteen people could hang on and in the vehicle. (Sound like the telephone booth stunts of the co-eds of later days?) This bunch was cold sober, however, because they had been for a "wade" in the city wading pool before they decided to get the Madrid group home before the parents became upset.

P.S. If you're wondering what I.H.E.A.L.M.S. stands for, read the next column.

New faces among DMACC faculty

By KIM BECKMAN

Have you seen a few new faces in front of the classrooms of DMACC? If so, you are seeing the new winter quarter teachers on the Boone Campus.

Jan Cox and Dr. Paul Kauffman are the staff members in the speech department. Both teach at Iowa State University and share the part-time responsibilities of Fundamentals of Speech 101.

Cox is on campus during the day, while Kauffman arrives in Boone on Tuesday evenings.

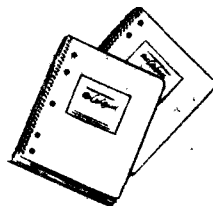

Melanie Matthews is back on campus after facing some cancelled classes in the fall quarter. Matthews is teaching the Music Appreciation course on Monday evenings and is also a graduate student at Iowa State University.

Another returning staff member is John Liepa who is back teaching a course in Western Civilization on Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

EVERYONE ENJOYED THEMSELVES at the campus Christmas party Dec. 14, but Kevin, Micky and Lloyd were really celebrating and wanted the camera man to know it. Students were admitted to the party with "Bear It" buttons which were used in place of tickets.

Plenty of cheer at Christmas party

Students of the Boone Campus "decked the halls" (and the entire building) of the Trestle Lounge Dec. 14 when they celebrated the holiday season with the annual campus Christmas party.

Mistle toe, colored lights and other Christmas decorations transformed the local nightspot into "Bear Christmas country" that evening.

The party, organized by the Student Senate, was open to all of those displaying a "Bear It" Christmas button on their person. The buttons were made and sold by the Student Senate for 50 cents each. Each button was also numbered for the door prize drawings of the party.

The door prizes (as well as candy) were distributed by Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus (portrayed by campus students Marcia Matt and Brian Hammond). The twosome drew the number of the winners and also presented "special" gifts to many faculty members. Student Senate president, Paula O'Hare assisted the Christmas couple in this task by determining exactly the right gift of wine, posters or signs for each student.

Recreational Director Bill Alley received a pair of sunglasses and a six-pack of beer to take along on his trip to the Rose Bowl (which he wasn't able to enjoy, after all), and Boone News-Republican Sports Editor Dick Kelly was given a holiday gift of "special magazines" (?) to take to enjoy on the flight down to Pasadena.

The Trestle Lounge also presented a gift of wine to a campus student during the party.

Holst donates $50,000 to Boone

By DARLA DIXON

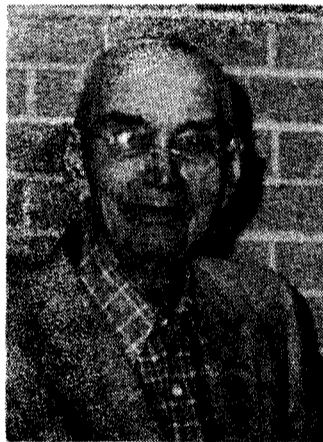

A 92-year-old Boone philanthropist, Bert Holst, recently donated a quarter of a million dollars to be divided between five different organizations, including the Boone Campus.

Donations of $50,000 each were made to these organizations.

Building expansion and additional activities for youngsters also created the need to present some of the money to the Boone County Y.

The Boone Campus also received a donation, and the check was presented to Dr. Joe A. Borgan, DMACC president during a Boone Campus foundation Board meeting in September, 1981.

Holst stated that the donation was made to promote the welfare of the college, and because his wife had been "active in different programs and activities at Boone Campus."

BURT HOLST (left) has donated $50,000 to the Boone Campus, DMACC. He said that his reasoning partially stemmed from the fact that his wife was active in junior college activities. Holst, a life-long resident of the Boone area, also presented generous donations to other organizations.

Chili feed by singing

By MARCIA MATT
Bear Facts Editor

Many students took advantage of the "CAN EAT FOR 50 CENTS" slogan Dec. 15. Boone Campus celebrated Christmas with a chili feed in the student lounge.

Three huge vats of chili were prepared for students and bowls of the hot delicacy were served along with crackers, pickles, garlic bread, brownies, chips and other lunchtime specialties.

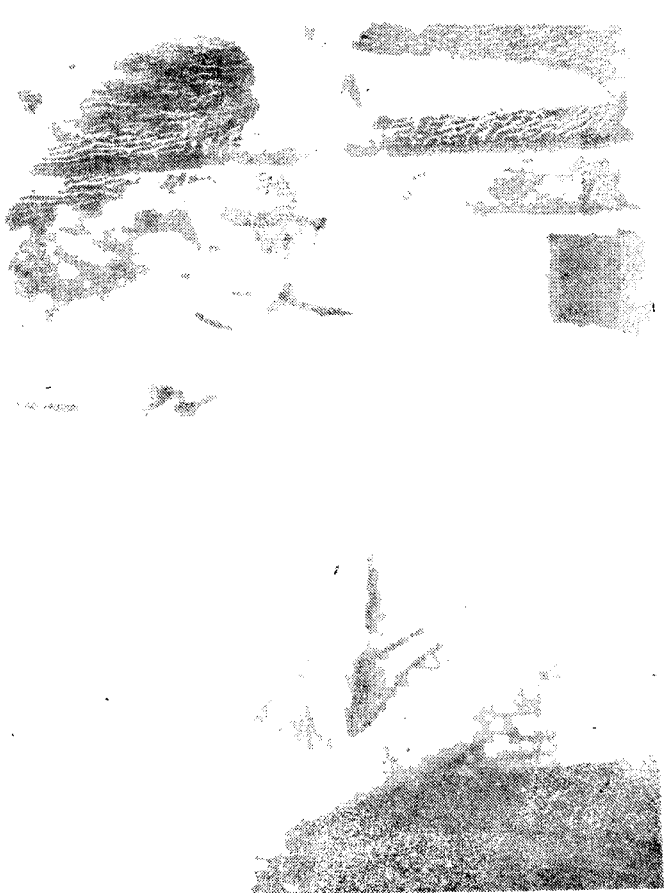

The creation of the chili began the evening before the feed in the Silberhorn home. Jennie Silberhorn cooked all of the hamburger for the chili and George hauled it to campus early the next morning.

It was George who then began mixing in the chili features. Oh, there were students who helped him, but he was the chief chef of the day. In other words, any complaints of the meal

LOOK OUT TANYA, that chili may be hotter than you think. Tanya Bogie prepares for a big taste of the chili served to students as a Christmas present as Lloyd Miller holds the spoon. Tanya and Lloyd were among the many students who helped with the annual chili feed.

Student Senate members began serving the chili meal at 11 a.m. that morning and continued to scoop chili, cut brownies and fill chip bowls until every student had eaten his or her fill. (And for many students, this meant three or four or five trips to the counter).

During the chili feed, the campus drill team and cheerleaders held an auction in the lounge.

A variety of items were up for sale at the right price and students dug deeply into their pockets to come up with the cash.

A group of spirited students also sang Christmas carols during the noon hour. The selections, however, weren't the traditional holiday tunes as a great many "variations" could be heard among the common melodies.

The campus broke for Christmas break on Dec. 18.

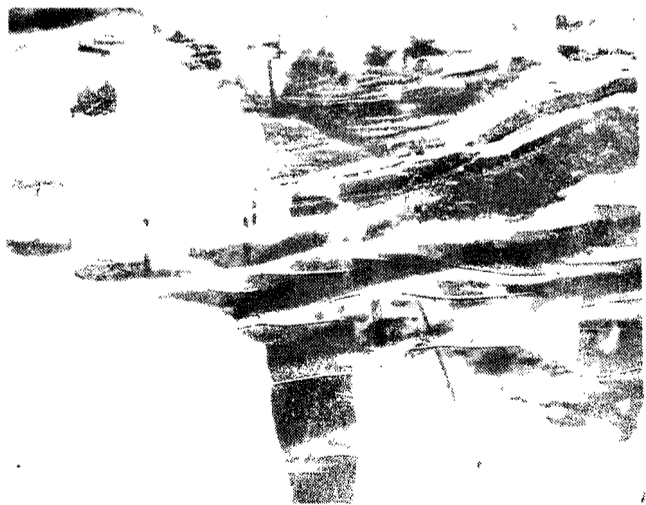

LEADING THE CHRISTMAS CAROLS in the lounge Dec. 16 were Bob Verstraten, Ellen Cyr and "Bob's bird." The bird displayed on Bob's glasses was perched there during the noon hour and enjoyed the holiday festivities of the Boone campus (it even left Bob with a token of esteem (?)).

Keeping up to date with Lady Bears match-ups

by CHERYL HURST

The Lady Bears ended play for the Christmas break with a record of 2-3, and the team has come a long way since their first game against Ellsworth Nov. 20. Improvement can be viewed in each match-up.

The Lady Bears enjoyed their first win when they beat Indian Hills of Ottumwa by a score of 60-58. Cheryl Hurst led the scoring with 21 points. Kelly Hammar, Canda Ott and Karla Martin also reached double figures with 14, 14 and 10 points respectively.

Hammar and Martin also had a good defensive game with Hammar grabbing 6 steals and Martin nabbing 5 steals.

DMACC next competed against a tough William Penn J.V. team. The Lady Bears kept the score close throughout the game.

DMACC was ahead of William Penn at half-time with a score of 26-24. The William Penn team, however, broke away from the DMACC grip and ended the game on top of Boone with a score of 64-55. Boone players reaching double figures were Hurst with 19, Martin with 11 and Hammar with 10. Hammar, Martin and Ott controlled the rebounds with 7 apiece.

Sophomore, Ronna Santage enjoyed her best offensive game of the season when the local team went against Creston. Santage had control of the scoring most of the game and ended up with 18 points and 5 rebounds.

When the team traveled to Haywarden to play Sioux Empire, Kelly Hammar pumped in 25 points with a field goal percentage of 52 percent. She also pulled down 13 rebounds from the boards and had 4 steals. Hammar put in a well-played game and was the only team member to reach double figures in scoring. The final game score was 65-51.

The second win for DMACC came when Council Bluffs traveled to Boone. The Lady Bears came out on top of the game with a score of 85-31. The match saw even scoring among the players. Hammar, Hurst and Ott all had 16 points. Martin added 11 points and Jane Peterson was right behind with 10.

Joni Shreve also added 7 points to the victory. Field goal percentages were all above 50 percent, which was very instrumental in the win. Ott and Hammar also captured 13 and 11 rebounds respectively in the win for the Lady Bears.

The next home game for the local team is scheduled for Jan. 16.

Kelly Hammer: A busy athlete on Boone Campus

By CHERYL HURST

Not many people have a chance to be selected for an All-State team position if their team was not a competitor in the State Tournament. However, this was just what happened to Boone Campus Sophomore Kelly Hammar.

Pitching for the Cedar Valley High School softball team, which had a 21-3 win-loss record, gave Hammar enough votes for her to be named as Third Team, All-State pitcher.

As the Cedar Valley team did not make it to the state competition, this was quite an achievement.

Hammar's record while competing in Softball at Cedar Valley included two conference titles as well as her state title. In her junior and senior years in high school, she received a second team All-Conference and a first team All-Conference award as pitcher.

Hammar did, however, get to participate in the Girls State Basketball Tournament during her senior year. Even though the team lost in first round action, Hammar says the experience of "playing in Veterans Auditorium was great!"

Another milestone for Boone Campus's Kelly Hammar was a Special Mention Award at the guard position while competing in the state competition.

Other titles acquired by this Boone Campus athlete during her high school basketball career include one second team honor and two first team All-Conference honors. Hammar considers the entire event at Veterans Auditorium to be her most memorable moment in high school.

While at Cedar Valley, she also competed in cross country and track. In track she was on the 880 yard medley team. Once again, Hammar saw state competition when the 880 yard medley team went to the state track meet in Des Moines.

When Hammar came to Boone Campus, DMACC, last year, she brought her athletic talents along. While at Boone Campus she has participated in both basketball and softball. Kelly is optimistic about the college women's team.

"We're average, but have the potential to be much better," she explained.

Kelly's work experience has included a variety of jobs. She began at Target where she waited on "all the crazy customers." Later she worked at "Johnny On The Spot" cleaners where she ran into "all kinds of stains."

Last summer, Hammar coached a junior high girls softball team and worked at the "Friendly Tavern" in Farnhamville. Now, if anyone needs advice or a bartending joke, they should just ask Kelly!

Her future plans include: getting married, getting her AA degree at DMACC, and "Giving Life the Gusto!"

Frakes will be ready

By JEFF JOHNSON

Bill Frakes is known as "the man with the metal plate," a result of an accident that occurred this fall during baseball practice.

Frakes, a native of Goldfield, Iowa, was hit in the eye by a hard line drive, putting a future career in baseball in doubt.

After being taken to Des Moines Lutheran Hospital where the metal plate was surgically placed over the crushed bones, Bill spent four days in the hospital.

After his release, Frakes went home for a week's recuperation.

There have been some doubts in Frakes mind concerning his future in baseball, but he feels he "will be ready to go by Springtime." He says that he "will be all right after I get over the first inning out on the mound."

After what is considered to be a full recovery, Frakes is back in classes at Boone Campus where he is a Liberal Arts major. And this spring, spectators will probably see him out on the pitching mound for the Boone Bears.

THE WINTER QUARTER STAFF of the Bear Facts consists of Jeff Johnson, Marcia Matt, Allen Lee, (seated), Darla Dixon, Kim Beckman, Bill

Giery, Cheryl Hurst, Bryan Stoll, Blake Soder Diane Cassady, Mark Halvorson and Sally Ramaekers (standing). The Bear Facts is a monthly publication and staff members are advised by Rosemary Westphalen.

'Bear Facts' result of cooperative efforts by staff

The Bear Facts does not magically produce itself each month and appear in the campus lounge. It is created through the efforts of a small staff of students who write and lay-out the monthly paper. The winter quarter Bear Facts staff includes the following students.

Marcia Matt — Marcia has been the editor of the Bear Facts since the fall quarter of 1980 and will continue in this role until her graduation from the Boone Campus in May. She is a 1980 graduate of Boone High School where she enjoyed publications, choir, swing choir, drama and speech. She was the vice-president of her senior class, a choir section-leader, a member of the 1979 Iowa All-State Chorus, the National Honor Society and the International Mesopian Society. She was also the recipient of the 1980 American Citizenship Award for Boone. At Boone Campus, she enjoys newspaper work. She is active as vice-president of the Student Senate and is a member of the drama department. She is employed as a reporter for the Boone News-Republican.

Darla Dixon — Darla is a freshman at the Boone Campus and is a 1981 graduate of Boone High School. She is the advertising manager of the Bear Facts and is also a reporter. In high school, she was active in journalism, choir, marching, pep and concert band and the health careers club. She plans to continue her journalism education at Iowa State University.

Jeff Johnson — Jeff is in his second year as a staff member on the Bear Facts and concentrates mainly on the athletic events of the campus. He is a 1980 graduate of Emmetsburg High School and was active in football, basketball, baseball, golf and journalism. At the Boone Campus, he enjoys baseball, intramural sports and publications. His future plans are to be a sportswriter or an insurance salesman.

Blake Soder — Blake is a 1981 graduate of Stratford High School and is a journalism major at the Boone Campus. He was active in drama, speech, track, cross country and marching, pep and concert bands while in high school. He enjoys journalism and drama at the Boone Campus.

Sally Ramaekers — Sally is a 1980 graduate of Bayard High School where she was active in track, cheerleading, basketball, Declan, choir, swing choir, drama, science club and journalism. At DMACC, she is a member of PBL and the Student Senate. Sally is also the 1981 Boone County Fair Queen. She is studying in the area of Business Office Supervisor and wishes to move out of state to work.

Diane Cassady — Diane is a 1979 graduate of Beventon High School where she was a matmaid. At Boone Campus, she is a recreation major and works as a reporter for the Bear Facts.

Bryan Stoll — Bryan is a 1978 graduate of Westminster High School in Colorado. He is working as a reporter and photographer for the paper and plans to continue his education in the area of Biology at Iowa State University.

Kim Beckman — Kim is a 1980 graduate of Ogden High School and was active in basketball, softball, track, chorus, band and "O" club. She is a member of the National Honor Society and was also a twirler in high school. At the Boone Campus, she enjoys basketball and softball and is a Liberal Arts major.

Cheryl Hurst — Cheryl is a 1980 graduate of United Community High School and enjoyed basketball, softball and track, as well as pep club, lettermans club and speech club while in high school. She is active in basketball and softball at DMACC and is majoring in business and accounting.

William Giery — William is from Sterling, Virginia and enjoys basketball and journalism. He hopes to become either a sports announcer or a newspaper sports writer following his journalism education. William is also one of the Bear basketball players.

Allen Lee — Allen is from Savannah, Georgia and is a communications major at DMACC with hopes of being a sportscaster. He plans to study at the University of Georgia following his years at the Boone Campus.

Anniversary for nursing students

By DARLA DIXON

The Nursing Students United celebrated a 30 year anniversary the week of Nov. 15-21 with a national celebration for Associate Degree Nursing education.

During that week, students were in charge of blood pressure clinics at North Grand Mall in Ames and sold t-shirts displaying the ADN emblem. The group was also involved in the Boone Pufferbilly celebration during September.

I resolve to quit

PUT IT OUT DARLA, smoking isn't allowed on the elevator. It just goes to prove that rules were meant to be broken by some people even if they are college students.

I resolve...

To give it up and take it up again in '82

Many campus students are still feeling the effects of "too much celebration" from the arrival of 1982, but some took time to offer their suggestions for resolutions for the new year.

Kelly Hammar — To try not to snort when I laugh.

Greg Powers — To study less and party more.

Chris Folvag — To get a six year degree in nuclear physics and become the master of time, space and demension.

Tammie Price — To quit smoking.

Dale Carhill — To get my grade point above a 3.0.

June Barkwill — To get a job and memorize the preppy handbook.

Scott Webb — Only to go out five nights a week.

Marcia Matt — To budget my money better and live up to my preppy nickname.

Theresa Hadaway — To raise more heck than last year.

Tammy Rogers — To grow up and be taller than the tallest woman.

Corinne Peterson — To start calling Darla Darlas more often.

Jennie Westburg — To start remembering what happens at the parties I attend.

Linda Essert — To drive my parents bonkers.

Deb Arnburg — To party more than last year and be more preppy (save the alligators!)

Darla Dixon — Never to call my father at 2 a.m. again and ask if he happens to have a spare set of car keys.

Becky Brogden — To have a successful year.

Pat Thieben — To lose five more pounds.

Dan Brzezinski — To cut down on cussing.

Bill Frakes — To quit drinking so much pop.

Sally Ramaekers — To lose five more pounds.

Julie Campbell — To quit drinking.

Steen Stevens — To get (and keep) my drivers license.

Ed Mathers — To quit smoking.

Lloyd Miller — To quit chewing tobacco.

Ron Bunting — To stop skipping Mr. Smith's classes.

Ron Uhlenkamp — Not to put cars in ditches anymore.

Paula O'Hare — To be more organized.

Blake Soder — To have more books.

Dean Ague — To get out of the state with a one way ticket to Arizona.

Kim MacDougall — The same as last year.

Lynn Foltz — To keep having fun while I'm here.

Gary Johnson — To be more methodical.

Dave Phelps — To have a better year in school.

Vicky Deviibiss — To make it to my 8 a.m. class more often.

Michelle Hamil — To get the muffler on my car fixed.

Sharon Blaskey — To keep better contact with my family and friends.

Tammy Knight — To write letters to everyone who is expecting a letter from me.

Julie Johnson — To drink more Budweiser.

Sue Whittlesey — To help Julie drink more Budweiser.

Trudy Peterson — To study harder (but not on school work).

Gaylene Chalfant — To get by and study harder.

Katie Van Gundy — To get a job.

Tanya Bogie — To never eat a choke-burger again.

Diane Cassady — To make it through school.

Mark Nickum — To get everyone to live more by my motto, "D.,S., and R. and R."

Jeff Johnson — To start going to class more often.

Fester Nelson — To cut down on the 12 ounce curls.

Scott Hall — To quit goofing around and catch a girl.

PBL fills in the gaps

By SALLY RAMAEKERS

Do you know of anyone with these symptoms: Doesn't care, is always tired, just can't get excited about anything, is always bored?

If so, let's get these people involved in Phi Beta Lambda. PBL has group committees, special projects, speakers and much more.

Does this organization sound interesting? Then attend a meeting on either Jan. 21 or Feb. 4. More information can be obtained by contacting Viv Brandmyer, Pat Thieben or a PBL member.

Mike Weeks selected as graduation speaker

EDITORS NOTE: Below is a portion of the letter written to Lawrence Michael Weeks, Deputy Associate Administrator for Space Transportation Systems, NASA, and a former Boone Campus student, by A.J. "Toche" Terrones, Executive Vice President of the Boone Area Chamber of Commerce concerning the 1982 commencement exercises at the Boone Campus.

Good morning Micky:

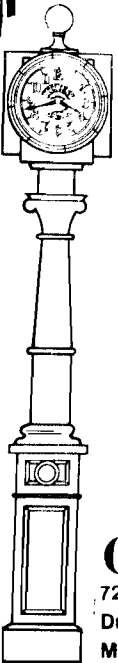

This letter confirms our phone conversation of Monday, Dec. 21 and our community's invitation to you to be the commencement speaker for the graduation exercises of the Des Moines Area Community College, Boone Campus, formerly known to you as Boone Junior College.

Needless to say, we were thrilled that you've accepted our invitation to be with us for this auspicious occasion on Friday, May 28. I know that this year's graduating class will be excited to hear your message, realizing that you attended their institution in 1937.

Last year the Honorable Norman Erbe, former Governor of the state of Iowa, addressed the graduates. It is our hope to continue the practice of securing speakers that started their journey towards a good education here in Boone.

Looking forward to meeting you, best wishes to you and yours for a prosperous 1982.
