MY HOME

When I started looking for a house to buy here in D. S M, I was looking for a house kind of smaller than my house in my country, and I was looking for some details similar to my old home, so I can remember my old home. For example, I looked for a big yard with flowers and trees, so I can remember my child hood and how I was happy, like butterflies moving from flower to flower. Second, I was looking for a big kitchen so I can see all my family in front of me while I cook especially the rice because that makes me remember my mom when she was cooking the Amber rice I was smelling when I got back from school . Moreover, I want a big living room with a fire place, so when we sit in front of it, I can remember my family when they were sitting in front of the sopa, preparing tea and talking together.

In conclusion, dear house, you are small, but big enough for love.
