MY HOUSE

My home is in India at Jaigoan. it's a beautiful home with four bedrooms, two bathrooms, one kitchen and one sitting room. Its color is lemon green and it's the "heart of my life". When I think of it, tears roll from my eyes because it reminds me of those days I used to go to my work. I had been working as an accountant in one of the private companies, my mother working in kitchen/flower garden, my father sitting at the terrace and watching me returning from my work, my dog named "Sweetie" running around and greeting me, and the most remarkable was my family get together usually in their vacation and in our festivals.

I miss my sweet home because now there is no one from my family living there but tenants are there. But whatever may be my fortune, because of this global world and technology development, I can see my home, my dog and the rest of my family members in my country through the internet. And I hope one day I will go back and see them.
