WHAT STUDENTS SAY

“The Human Services program has set the fundamental foundation for me as I continue my education in Social Work.”

—MELISSA

“The Human Services program has been a great learning tool for me. I came in with one goal, but left with many doors of opportunity because I learned so much.”

—EVONNE

“The Human Services program has really opened up my horizons to all the different things I can do when I am finished. It gave me many ideas and really helped me decide where I want to go in my life with my career.”

—ANONYMOUS
What is Human Services?
The field of Human Services is an ideal career choice for men and women who are interested in empowering people to reach their goals in life. Students who enter the program need to be mature, emotionally stable, objective and sensitive to the needs of others. Good communication skills, both written and oral, are essential.

The Human Services program prepares students for entry-level jobs and for transfer for a Bachelor’s degree at a four-year college or university. By the end of the program, students will be able to interact effectively with clients in a human services agency.
